

Assistance for Students at Itamar's Hitzim High School

The community of Itamar has given new meaning to the word “pioneering”. Founded on Israel’s Independence Day in 1984, Itamar has taken the lead in settling the barren hills and valleys of eastern Samaria.

Itamar was founded by 15 dedicated students from the Meir Institute of Judaic Studies in Jerusalem. Eager to put their Zionist ideals to the test, they settled a hilltop just east of Shechem and continued their studies in nearby Elon Moreh. They lived in temporary quarters, gradually marrying and bringing their young wives to join them. As the years passed, the families grew. Today there are nearly 100 families in Itamar. In the past decade, Itamar has suffered devastating losses to terror, but has not broken.

The center of the community is a residential area with small houses and gardens. There are several pre-schools, an elementary school, and the Hitzim High School, a religious boarding school for boys. Attracted by its unique approach to education, students from all over the country attend Hitzim.

The Hitzim School specializes in helping students with learning disabilities. Those who do not succeed in their studies, and have a painful history of not succeeding, tend to develop a low self esteem. Some even drop out and end up getting into serious trouble. Hitzim is unique in that it invests a lot of money in smaller classes and private tutors. They cannot ask the parents to help cover the costs of these extra expenses because most families struggle just to pay the standard tuition.

These students need extra tutoring help. Hitzim is turning to CFOIC Heartland for help in sponsoring private tutors, which costs $3,800 a month. Hitzim knows that the extra effort invested in these young men will enable them to succeed. They are asking you to help sponsor a student.

- Itamar's Hitzim High School attracts students from all over the country.
- These boys have something in common... a painful history of learning disabilities and failures.
- Extra hours of individualized tutoring will allow these students to experience academic success, and help them develop a sense of self-worth.

Hitzim is asking you to help sponsor a student. They are asking to you to reach out to these young men who are hungry to be part of a home and thirsty for the education and the care Hitzim provides.
